

Humanities Department

Dear Sir / Madam,

Mr Lev Kashkin is a student of the BA in Communication and Digital Media programme at CITY College, University of York Europe Campus. We have had the pleasure of observing his volunteer performance within the context of the Personal and Professional Development (PPD) Seminars offered by the Humanities Department. As the coordinators of the PPD Seminars, we can confirm that Mr Kashkin has consistently demonstrated responsibility and commitment in fulfilling his assigned tasks.

More specifically, Mr Kashkin assisted the Department in the organisation of two online seminars during the Autumn Semester 2024-25, and one during the Spring Semester. His main obligations included attending the seminars, noting the names of the attendees, filling the Certificates of Attendance, and assisting our Course Administrator with the final participant lists. As a volunteer, Mr Kashkin was punctual, vigilant, and helpful. He was on time in delivering the participant list and demonstrated no delay in filling out the Certificates of Attendance. His time as a volunteer was both helpful and greatly appreciated. He was a pleasure to work with and demonstrated his dedication to both the programme, the PPD seminars and to the concept of volunteering.

Yours faithfully,
